

The Copper Beech

By Hayes Park

Sunlight streaming,
through the majestic branches,
illuminating the vibrant leaves.

There stands the imposing giant,
wearing the field like a night gown.

Many generations were, are & will be,
in awe of the colossal copper beech tree.

In the wind it dances,
swaying side to side.

Children stand and stare,
grinning with pride.

THE ROYAL
PARKS