

Welcome to Isabella Plantation Broomfield Hill Trail - 1,115 metres / 45 minutes

What can you see, feel and hear? Start from Broomfield Hill Gate, turn left onto Camellia Walk and follow the map in a loop and have fun.

Don't forget to close the gate!

Look at tree by post 3, Pinus nigra. It's very tall! Can you see the top?

Keep going - do you feel like you are in a tunnel? What does it feel like here?

Follow the path. Can you touch the Weeping Willow tree?

Go just past the Still Pond and turn right. Can you hear the waterfall?

Follow the stream and find the trees near post 23. They're Silver Birch. Feel how bumpy they are.

Follow the path over the large bridge, stop and sniff. What can you smell?

At the crossroads go straight ahead. Can you find the shrub with the velvety under leaves?

Stay on the path. Soon you'll reach Thomson's Pond. Sit on the bench - what can you hear?

Go to the stepping stones and walk or wheel over the stream.

Turn right and cross the bridge onto the lawn, find post 11, a Dawn Redwood. Feel the ridges on its trunk.

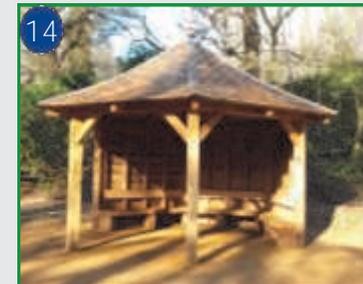

Cross the bridge and find the pine tree right in front of you. Are the needles sharp? Be careful!

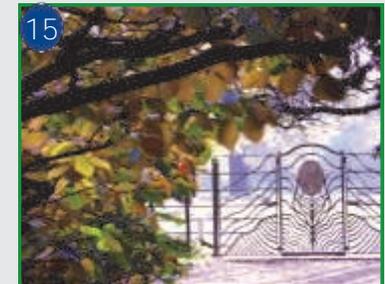

Turn right and before you get to the bench, look right. Can you see a shrub with dark orange bark?

Keep going on the path. To the right is Acer Glade. Is it bright or dark along this path today?

Turn left into Wilson's Glade. Go to the gazebo and take a seat. How many birds can you hear?

Return to the main path back to the start. Can you see the shrub overhanging the path?

You are now at the end of the trail and have returned to the Broomfield Hill Gate.

We hope you have enjoyed your visit!
