SCHOOL PLANTING DAYS AT BROMPTON CEMETERY

Give your pupils the chance to connect with nature while making a lasting difference at Brompton Cemetery.

Join us for a series of free, hands-on bulb planting sessions designed for Key Stage 2 and Key Stage 3 pupils. During this two-hour outdoor experience, students will:

- Take part in practical conservation activities, exploring Brompton Cemetery and discovering why urban green spaces are so important for people and wildlife.
- Create a lasting legacy by planting bulbs that will brighten the cemetery for visitors and provide valuable habitat for wildlife for years to come.
- Build confidence outdoors while developing a stronger connection with nature through guided, curriculum-linked learning.

As this is a pilot programme, places are completely free for participating schools.
