

GREENWICH PARK REVEALED

Autumn 2023 – Summer 2024

Please note: Temporary path closures will be in place during essential works, with diversions clearly signposted.

AUTUMN 2023 - SPRING 2024

The area around the General Wolfe Statue will be closed over winter to transform it into a larger, more comfortable space.

The Royal Observatory will remain open and access will be possible via Blackheath Avenue and the Prime Meridian Walk.

AUTUMN 2023 - SPRING 2024

Experts will redefine the slumped, terraced banking which frames the view from The Queen's House.

The tarmac path that cuts diagonally across the Queen's Field, below Observatory Hill, will be removed permanently and reseeded. This will reinstate the 17th century landscape designs and create new green space.

JANUARY - MARCH 2024

The Pavilion Café will be closed for three months for refurbishments and landscape improvements.

Alternative temporary catering will be available.

AUTUMN 2023 - SPRING 2024

We will reinstate the parks 17th century landscape designs, redefining the 'giant grass terraces' on Observatory Hill - known as The Grand Ascent.

The path running along the bottom Observatory Hill will be widened to be more accessible.

JANUARY - MARCH 2024

The inner rows of the eastern and western tree avenues will be restored. Badly damaged and declining trees planted in the 1970s will be replaced with healthy, semi-mature lime and elm trees.
